This is what happens when hard working have too much time on their hands. The Covid Pandemic stopped everything for these 5 accomplished musicians. All gigs were canceled. Aside from the occasional studio session, we were all looking for day jobs.

Before the pandemic Gil, Arild and Tor were working together in a Creedence Tribute, Clearwaters. Gil and Sid had worked together in Gils Band, and with Diesel Dahl in the Indian Motorcycle backed band The Vintage Chiefs. Ove Andre had been involved with Arild and Tor via Gluntan and Clearwaters and worked with Gil worked with Ove Andre in Clearwaters. Gil, Arild and Sid traveled down to Costa Del Sol to take part in a Creedence project, and discovered that they shared a interest in the music of John Fogerty.

As they say idle hands arr the devils play thing. Gil and Arild had several discussions on improvements they could make with Clearwaters when the pandemic was over. As things began to normalise there were lots of ideas born. Deciding to put these ideas into play, they had a meeting with Clearwaters and not everyone in the band was willing to do the work , and had found other occupations, and interests. That was the end of Clearwaters for Gil, Arild and Tor. A couple of days later they spoke to Sid, and Ove Andre, they ask if they would be interested in this project. Both said yes with no hesitation. The rest is as they say history. Now the project is in swing.

The best John Fogerty, and Creedence Clearwater Revival Tribute is born. Production and touring is in the planning stage and they will be coming soon to a city near you soon
